Delivering affordable rapid transport to sustain local economic growth

Increasing transport capacity and achieving modal shift are essential as the UK economy recovers and grows and for reducing carbon emissions in urban areas.

Rapid Transit using buses is a flexible, affordable solution successfully applied across the world.

This conference includes a guided tour and detailed discussion of the pioneering Cambridgeshire Guided Busway and its part in growing the Cambridgeshire economy. Papers and discussion on the second day address current issues in justifying, developing and implementing rapid transit including current UK schemes and available technologies against a background of experience from the US and around an increasingly well-connected world.

The 6th BRTuk Conference will be fully residential within the historic Clare College Cambridge where all meals will be taken thus allowing delegates maximum opportunities for discussion and networking.

Who should attend?

This conference is aimed at all those involved with local public transport in the UK and beyond wishing to learn from experience with existing systems, consider the variety of technical solutions available, and appreciate a picture of how bus based rapid transit systems can be effectively applied including:

- ⌘ Engineers
- ⌘ Planners
- ⌘ Consultants and construction companies
- ⌘ Public transport operators
- ⌘ PTE's and local authorities with transport responsibility
- ⌘ Elected members of PTE's and local authorities
- ⌘ Suppliers
